Tories freeze council tax AND promise to maintain frontline services but jobs will be lost

By CHRIS MOSS

chris moss@hertsesseynews.co.uk

COUNCIL tax will be frozen but some jobs and services sacrificed as Harlow's ruling Conservative administration attempts to find £1.7m of savings over the next financial year.

Details of the authority's 2010/11 budget were revealed in documents published ahead of tonight's (Thursday) meeting of the policy and resources committee meeting.

The freeze on council tax will mean the council's share of the bill for an average Band D household will remain at £251.55 for the second year running.

Tories welcome former Lib Dem with open arms

By CHRIS MOSS chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A FORMER Liberal Democrat councillor who quit the party to sit as an independent has now joined the Conservatives.

Linda Pailing, who represents the Netteswell ward on Harlow Council, walked away from the Lib Dems in September last year.

At the time she stated she would not be joining another party and gave an indication that she may not even stand for re-election in May.

But on Friday the Conservatives called a press conference to announce that Ms

Pailing had now joined the Tory ranks.

She told the Star that a period of reflection and a long-standing admiration for the work of Conservative Parliamentary hopeful Rob Halfon in the local community had convinced her to make the ideological jump from left to right.

'As an independent with no political allegiances it gave me the time to sit back and assess what I felt was the best way forwards for Harlow and how I could be part of that future," she said.

"I have long been an admirer of Rob and the way in which he engages with the community. I decided I wanted to become part of the team supporting him in his bid to become Harlow's next MP."

Ms Pailing admitted that she had originally not seen eye-to-eye with Conservative councillors over the wave of controversial service cutbacks made last year but had grown to respect the party for "sticking to its

"I have been impressed by the way that the Conservative budget has been monitored and adjusted during this past very difficult financial year," she went on. "They have made some very difficult decisions but they have stood by them and stuck to their guns and they have been proved right."

When asked how she felt voters would react to her decision to join the Tories, Ms Pailing said: "I think there's going to be a mixed reaction really.

"There will be some people who are as disenchanted as I was with the Liberal Democrats and will understand my reasons for making the jump, but there will of course be others who will be very disappointed.

"I can only apologise to those people, but I could not stay with a party that I no longer believed in."

Welcoming Ms Pailing to the Conservative side, council leader Andrew Johnson said she would make a fine addition to the administration.

"Linda is a very talented and well-respected councillor who will make a fine addition to the team running Harlow," he said.

"She knows that given the mess this administration inherited, we have had to take some very difficult decisions and she is ready to support us in doing that to make Harlow a better place."

Baby boom at maternity unit

A RECORD 3,917 babies were born in the maternity unit at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital last year.

Head of midwifery Wendy Matthews said the baby boom topped all expectations.

"In the summer when we first broke the 340 mark, we expected to achieve a target of 3,800 babies during the financial year 2009/10," she

"However, we have seen a continuing upward trend of women wishing to have their babies with us.

"Much of our success is down to the popularity of the midwifeled birth centre which will soon celebrate its third birthday with an expected 1,500 babies born during that time.'

This month the unit recruited another eight experienced midwives.

400 homes visited in sex attack case

POLICE investigating a sexually-motivated attack on a young woman have visited 400 homes in Harlow and spoken to more than 1,000 people, it was 1,000 people, it was revealed this week. But officers investigating the incident said they still want to speak to more peo-ple living in the Toddbrook area where the attack took place at about 5pm on Tuesday, January 19.

The attacker ran off when the woman, who is in her late teens, screamed repeatedly.

Detectives also want to talk to a man who was seen in the area at the time of the attack. He is described as being in his late teens, about 5ft 8ins tall and was wearing a navy or grey hooded top and dark bottoms.

The officer in charge of the investigation, Detective Inspector Martin Pasmore, said there were still witnesses who had not come forward yet.
"In particular a second man was seen by the victim in the area of Harberts Road and Third Avenue at the time," he said.

"He is described as white in his late teens and wearing overalls similar to those used by mechanics and a backpack.

"Also, there was a group of young men wearing base-ball caps and hooded tops in the area of Ryecroft."

Anyone with information should contact police on 0300 3334444 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Ready, steady ...get flipping

THE search is on for Harlow's finest flippers as pancake races return to the town centre next Thursday (February 11).

Teams of four will race a total of 100 metres between them, each participant running a 25-metre leg during which they must toss their pancakes at least three times.

Residents, students and businesses are invited to enter a team at a cost of £1 per adult and 50p per student, with all proceeds going to St Clare Hospice.

Event organiser Mandy Hood, of the Harlow Town Centre Partnership, said: "If you're skilled in running the gauntlet in the kitchen, juggling food or simply used to working under pressure, this is your chance to jump out of the fire and into the frying pan." The fun starts at 11.30am in Market Square. For more details, contact Mandy on (01279)

Residents will have final say on cash grant

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PEOPLE living in Church Langley and Potter Street are being given the chance to have their say on how an Essex County Council grant should be spent.

Community groups in both areas have been putting forward bids for the People's £100k Community Chest.

Following a screening process, three proposals are now being put forward for residents to have the final say.

The first is for an extension and enhancement of Church Langley Community Centre. Improvements will include upgrading the play area, a refurbishment of the junior toilets, noise reduction measures and a new sprung floor in the main hall so ballet and dance classes can be held

A two-storey extension will also provide office space for a community worker, meeting rooms, additional disabled toilets and a kitchenette.

The second proposal is to improve Brenthall and Barnsley Woods by restoring, upgrading and extending the footpath network, including disabled access to the site.

New seating and wooden sculptures will be added and the area's biodiversity improved with new wildlife habitats. It will also be used to hold educational events for members of the local community. The third project is for a South East Harlow Sports and Youth Association Community Hall giving access to a range of sporting, social and recreational activities.

The hall, which will also include a kitchen and social area, would provide a home for a new youth club and a pre-school group. Councillor John Jowers, Essex County Council's cabinet member for localism and planning, said: "The People's £100k Community Chest is putting power into the hands of residents.

"The county council is awarding the cash and the people decide how it should be spent. This really is democracy working at its best." There will be an opportunity to find out more about each of the proposals at a hustings event to be held on Monday, February 15 at the Potters Arms in Church Langley Way, starting at 6pm.

Ballot papers will be distributed to every household in Church Langley and Potter Street from Monday.

Security gates to protect two green spaces from flytippers

NEW security gates have been installed at two of Harlow's worst flytipping hotspots - Ash Tree Fields and Jean MacAlpine Park. Rubbish has been dumped on the lane leading to the playing fields at Ash Tree Fields for some time but the gate will prevent vehicle

And new bollards and gates at Jean MacAlpine Park – adjacent to the Pinnacles industrial area - also block access points.

The cost of the work at Ash Tree Field was met by Harlow Town Cricket Club and Canons Brook Golf Club, while Harlow Council paid for the measures at Jean MacAlpine Park.

Paul Morrell, secretary of Harlow Town Cricket Club, said: "The new gate has eradicated the problem of flytipping in the lane overnight by preventing drivers pulling their vehicles off the road out of sight to dump their waste.

"This has over the past few years been an increasing problem for us and has on many occasions prevented access for members, visiting teams and schools playing cricket at Ash Tree Field."

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said the authority would always prosecute flytippers when they were caught.

"Flytipping is not a harmless crime," he said. "It takes a great deal of time and council taxpayers' money to clean up the mess and hazard caused by these dangerous and thoughtless acts

"To prevent Harlow's green spaces from becoming a dumping ground we urge anyone witnessing flytipping to call the council.

To report suspected fly-tippers, call Harlow Council on (01279) 446655 or email contact@harlow.gov.uk.

Berecroft firestarter jailed for six years

THE man responsible for deliberately starting a fire which tore through a Harlow housing estate and forced the evacuation of 150 people from their homes has been jailed for six years.

Yuen Chow (30) started the blaze in the home he shared with his mother and siblings in Berecroft on July 30 last year.

The flames quickly spread to neighbouring properties, destroying two houses and causing thousands of pounds of damage to 10 others.

Chow, who had earlier pleaded guilty to charges of arson and reckless endangerment of life, was sentenced at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday.

In addition to the prison sentence, he was handed a four-year extended period By COURT REPORTER star@hertsessexnews.co.uk of licence making him liable for re-call for a longer period than usual if freed on parole.

Imposing the sentence, Judge Christopher Ball said: "You have admitted destroying by fire what was your home. Not only that but you severely damaged homes of many of your immediate neighbours. It was a terrible thing to do."

The court heard that Chow, who also admitted breaking a neighbour's window and the windows of two police cars, had been sending text messages to his sister about a shortage of money.

In one of the messages he wrote: "I might burn the house down. If I do, say sorry to dad for me. I don't want to, ha

He later set light to mattresses piled ing outside to warn neighbours by shout-ing "fire" and throwing stones at their windows.

One man has been left with a stutter and stammer for the first time in his life after the panic of first fearing he may not get out and then worrying about others when questioned by police about the fire, Chow told them: "Yeah, I did it". Peter Clarke, prosecuting, told the court: "He went to Harlow police station carrying a machete, banged against a glass partition for a minute or so without saying anything and went on to smash up car windows at the police station."

A blood sample taken from Chow showed previous cannabis use and traces of cocaine.

Mr Clarke said fire service officers established the flames had spread sideways through roof voids in the terraced

The court was told that Chow's neighbours had to be housed in alternative accommodation, with Harlow Council paying £1,500 to open up a temporary Garry Ryan, representing Chow, said in mitigation that what happened had arisen out of a row with his mother when he was at a very low point.

"His motive was he wanted to go to prison for a long period of time," he said. "He had a long period of illicit substances abuse involving skunk cannabis and cocaine, topped up with alcohol."

He added that Chow had co-operated with the police.

Mr Ryan said the damage caused by the fire had been more extensive because the original flat roofed terrace had veen extended upwards wuth the addition of an apex roof which allowed the flames to spread over the party walls.

Blaze report: 'There is no need for people to panic'

A REPORT into the safety of homes on a Harlow housing estate where two were destroyed and a further 10 damaged in a blaze has recommended that remedial work is carried out on a number of properties to minimise the risk of fire spread-

The investigation was commissioned by South Anglia Housing Association after residents living in Berecroft demanded reassurances over the safety of their homes in the wake of last July's fire.

The blaze was started deliberately by 30-year-old Yuen Chow, who was this week sentenced to six years in prison after pleading guilty to arson and reckless endangerment of life.

Although the report did not identify any serious construction flaws in the properties, it suggested that works could be carried out on some to reduce the risk of fire spreading through the shared roof space in terraced homes.

Harlow MP Bill Rammell, who joined councillors Lee Dangerfield, John Strachan and Lorna Spenceley in campaigning for residents' safety concerns to be addressed, said the report's conclusions were not a reason for people to panic.

"The report does not highlight an immediate fire risk but rather ways in which a serious fire can be better contained to one property," he said.

The housing association has agreed to carry out the required work on properties it owns and those in private

ownership. Information on the faults identified in the report will be sent out to residents shortly.

"We will be pressing them to carry out the works as quickly as possible," Mr Rammell added.

Councillor Lee Danger-field, who lives on the Berecroft estate, said: "Since the night of the fire

I have continued to work on this issue and will continue to do so until the works are completed.

"According to the information we have there are still properties on the estate that do not have adequate fire alarms and I would ask people to contact Essex Fire Service to address this as soon as possible.'

Honest and open

SIR, Though not surprised, I am disappointed that Jean Clark should still be in denial over the mess Labour made of Harlow Council's finances ("Making cuts is neither moral nor courageous", January 21).

Officers prepared the financial reports which clearly showed the council's expenditure would have exceeded income if no reduction in spending had been implemented last year. This unavoidable state of affairs was brought about in part because previous Labour administrations failed to grapple with the council's worsening finances. It was exacerbated by additional costs being imposed on the council by Gordon Brown without any matching Treasury funding.

I am sure Cllr Clark is not accusing council officers of misleading our elected representatives so I can only assume that she is either stubbornly refusing to face the reality that everyone else can see. Or has she succumbed to Labour's obsession with spin?

succumbed to Labour's obsession with spin? I am convinced that in her heart of hearts she knows all too well that Harlow has been badly treated by her Westminster colleagues but tribal loyalty prevents her from conceding that Harlow's new Conservative administration has been dealt a very difficult hand to play.

No-one enjoys having to make spending cuts but sometimes politicians have no choice. Ask Mr Brown: in last week's 5tar we read that Harlow's tax office is to close with the loss of 16 jobs. Cllr Clark will not be writing a letter of complaint against this decision, of course, because it was made by her own party.

Though we will often disagree about best practice, I do feel the electorate are entitled to expect their politicians to be honest, have the courage of their convictions and do what they genuinely believe to be right and in the best long-term interests of their community.

Lonly wish Cllr Clark and her Labour

Time for Children celebrates diversity

Too soon to celebrate 'lowest' tax rise

SIR, We saw last year how Harlow Tories' so-called determination to deliver value for money ultimately revealed itself to be a code for savage cuts in local provisions. I, therefore, read with concern in last week's Star that Essex County Council is boasting it will deliver a 1.9 per cent tax increase this year, the lowest for 20 years.

Before the Conservatives at County Hall start planning their celebration party, can they please offer some transparency and explain how this will be achieved?

Where will the savings be found from? What cuts will be afflicted upon existing service providers? Will the county council be able to balance its tax conjuring with

In an ideal world we would all like to pay lower taxes but I would urge the county council to concede there is no way it can cut its tax expenditure without causing havoc to the frontline services it provides.

> County councillor Guy Mitchinson Joyners Field, Harlow

Moral dilemma

SIR, Labour councillor Jean Clark should exercise more than a little caution when she uses the phrase moral courage as a political brickbat against Guy Mitchinson.

I suggest she reflects on lack of moral courage when our MP failed to support the small number of Labour MPs who opposed the illegal, immoral and, as we now know, shambolic war to get rid of non existent weapons of mass destruction. Remember, the late Robin Cook actually resigned over the issue.

More recently, Bill Rammell refused Robert Halfon's very reasonable request to explain his actions over his expenses at a public meeting. To misquote Lady Bracknell, to demonstrate lack of moral courage once may be regarded as a misfortune, twice looks like a deliberate cop out.

Moving on to the issue of wheelie bins. Cllr Clark must elaborate on her sweeping assertion that 90 per cent of residents opposed them. Is that 90 per cent of all Harlow residents, 90 per cent of a sample polled – and, if so, who conducted the poll and how big was the sample – or is the figure just a rough estimate plucked out of thin air to support a weak argument and a battle long lost.

Her suggestion that residents be offered a choice of black bags or bins exposes a disturbing lack of knowledge of the economics of running a large local authority from a senior Labour councillor.

Duplicate collections for everything, Cllr

Duplicate collections for everything, Clir Clark? What about the massive increase in overheads? Personally, I am delighted with my bins. They should have been introduced years ago!

Harlow needs help

SIR, I had to laugh at the responses to my letter ("Harlow should be dismantled, January 7). I felt famous for a week!

My whole point is that Harlow doesn't have a rich heritage to preserve and, therefore, the Harlow Civic Society is simply an organisation perpetuating the current misery of residents. I appreciate the society also works to improve our lot; however, the problem with Harlow is simple – a lack of jobs.

I didn't criticise the community spirit – and yes, it might be good – but I do wonder if it is so strong because of the isolation Harlow residents feel at being so far out from London and other reasons I gave in my letter.

The town train station is too far for people to walk to and the lack of buses serving it seems like a deliberate policy to me.

Belfast is around 10 miles in width; Harlow is around seven miles tip to tip! Belfast has around 350,000 people living in it and Harlow approximately 77,000, so don't tell me there isn't room for more people to live in the existing town! Build more houses.

The green wedges create distance between the next set of shops and your neighbours and friends. They are a divisive artifice of Harlow and the town's design encourages car use. And I am not going to enter into a debate about global warming.

Harlow is the only district in Essex to have lost population since 1981. It is the third most ethnically diverse district in the county behind Thurrock and Epping Forest. You should be proud of that instead of telling Irish people like me to go home!

Streets are a mess

SIR, I wonder how else to get the message across to people of Harlow to clear up after their dogs have used our pavements as a toilet. I am fed up with constantly dodging it on the school run and constantly nagging my child to watch the poo. This walk should be a chance to get some fresh air and exercise but I am increasingly wanting to jump in the car for the five-minute journey because of this disgusting problem.

I contacted the council just before Christmas and I was very pleased that the next day the pavements I mentioned — Harberts Road (particularly outside the Meadows Children's Centre on both sides) and Little Grove Field leading to Hare Street School — were jetwashed. A week later two notices went up warning of fines and surveillance which seemed to work for a few days but now the problem is back to where it was.

There aren't any bins along this road as I was told there aren't funds for someone to maintain and empty them. But if people weren't so lazy and ignorant we shouldn't need them, especially when you can buy 200 nappy sacks for £1

I'm assuming it's the early morning/late night dog walkers who are to blame because I never see who does this and apparently wardens have been spotted in the area.

Not only does it make me feel sick every day, I worry about the health implications of the children who must be constantly walking in it and then walking it into the school and straight onto the carpets they all sit down on. I also have a toddler with health issues and is currently learning to walk. He is at the stage where he is putting everything in his mouth, including his shoes!

So please take some responsibility for your pets and clean up after them. Make our streets a cleaner, safer place to walk.

Spin and bluster

SIR, Is there anyone who actually believes that Colin Hindmarch is now achieving excellence at Harlow College and that it is now in the top five per cent of the country (Star, January 21)?

Mr Hindmarch has proven himself a conjurer with statistics, able to make red appear as black with the simple use of a spreadsheet and a political motivation to spin.

He says that when a student completes their time at college it constitutes success. It doesn't matter what their grade was or what course they ended up completing, invariably because they were failing the course upon which they originally enrolled and forced to change in order to massage the statistics.

It seems that it also doesn't matter to this definition of success that students don't get to university on the grades they achieved or a decent job.

This is spin and bluster from Mr Hindmarch who is still desperately trying to convince us that the vindictive and callous decision to sack 40 teachers three years ago was justified to bring about this twisted perception of excellence, whereas the reality is that the college has endured a massive collapse in educational standards and a financial crisis.

All this shows is that a long overdue public inquiry into Harlow College's actions over the past few years is urgently needed. We need to know how many of the college's successes in various courses were in fact taken by trainee teachers and managers because they lacked the minimum qualifications to do their jobs. If this is the case then it could be seen as an abuse of taxpayers' money provided by the Government's Train to Gain programme.

Salt through roads

SIR, In response to councillor Tony Hall ("Working together", January 21), 1 did not say that all the county's roads should be salted two or three times each day.

I said that if all the through roads in Harlow were salted once each day it would have made it easier for the residents and emergency services.

At present Essex County Council does not salt any other roads in Harlow other than main roads and bus routes, but it has stopped Harlow Council from doing them.

I have lived in Harlow for 47 years and the service is worse now than it ever was.

Teacher who helped shape the new town dies aged 86

A FORMER teacher who moved to Harlow during the population boom of the early 1960s has died at the age of 86.

Merfyn Williams and his family moved to Rundells from Wales in 1961 when there was a need for more teachers. He taught at several schools including Brays Grove, Rivermill Primary, Netteswell and Commonside. Even in semi-retirement he was still a familiar face in the classroom as a supply teacher

Mr Williams also undertook voluntary work as a driver for the local Variety Club's Sunshine Coach charity and helped with the Chocolate Run.

His son Hywel, of Appleton Close, Harlow, said: "He helped to shape Harlow from its infancy and onwards through several decades.

"He will be remembered with great love and affection by all of his family and friends and also the hundreds of children he taught over many years in Harlow."

Mr Williams, who died following a short illness, leaves four children, eight grandchildren and four greatgrandchildren.

His funeral will take place at Parndon Wood Crematorium at 2.30pm on Wednesday (February 10).

The northbound carriageway was closed and vehicles caught in the tailback were turned around and escorted back to the Harlow exit.

PAH team heads east on recruitment drive

By CHRIS MOSS

A TEAM of senior nursing staff from Princess Alexandra Hospital will jet off to the Phillipines this weekend on a mission to recruit more than 50 new nurses.

The trip to the Far East comes exactly 10 years after a similar exercise resulted in 72 registered Filipino nurses signing up to work at the Harlow hospital.

The PAH NHS Trust said there were a number of reasons why it was returning to the Philippines to take on more staff, one of which was that it was having to replace and fill vacancies in a competitive market.

The team of four senior nurses and an international nursing recruitment adviser for the PAH NHS Trust will hold a series of intensive interview sessions over the course of one week.

Heading up the recruitment expedition is Lindsay Hanmore, PAH's head of nursing practice and people performance

Hospital launching £1/2m campaign for new premature baby facilities

HOSPITAL chiefs in Harlow are to launch a £½m fundraising campaign to provide new facilities for the care of premature babies.

Building work is due to start in April and will include a state-of-the-art unit with an additional four neonatal cots as well as a dedicated paediatric outpatient department to improve services provided for children.

The fundraising campaign, to be launched in the next few weeks, will seek the support of local businesses, individuals and local personalities. Wendy Matthews, associate director for women's and children's services, said: "Our neonatal service has performed well in a number of external assessments over the years. However, we must include in our long-term plans the need to increase the capacity and environment of the unit to care for the number of premature babies and their families we are seeing."

She added: "As there is a surplus of qualified nurses in the Philippines, it makes sense to tap into what has been a rich source of excellent staff for us in the past. The key factor has been the success of those nurses who joined us following our first expedition back in 2000."

The Filipino contingent at PAH has flourished during the past 10 years, with 40 of the original 72 nurses who came to Britain in 2000 still working at the hospital.

Holocaust service remembers the victims of global genocide

VICTIMS of genocide around the world were remembered at a service held in Harlow Civic Centre to mark the anniversary of the Holocaust.

The service, organised by councillor Muriel Jolles and the Council of Christians and Jews, was led by Rabbi Irit Shillor and featured a moving performance by youngsters from performing arts group Razed Roof.

Those attending were given paper clips to

Among those present was prospective Conservative MP Rob Halfon, who described as the service as a "very moving occasion".

THE decision to freeze council tax was this week dismissed as a "populist gimmick" by opposition councillors who claim it masks a series of cuts elsewhere in the budget.

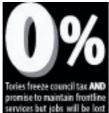

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington said his party would be proposing an amendment when the proposals are debated at a full council meeting next Thursday (February 11). "There are some very mean cuts included

"There are some very mean cuts included in this budget which run completely contrary to what the previous administration stood for," he told the Star.

"As for the council tax freeze, I think it is a bit of a populist gimmick to be honest. It simply takes the headlines away from a series of stealth taxes hidden elsewhere."

Labour councillors are also planning to propose an amended budget. Group leader Mark Wilkinson said his party was "extremely disappointed" with the Tories' proposals.

"Because of the cuts made last year to the likes of the Leah Manning Centre, the Harlow Welfare Rights & Advice budget and reductions in grant aid, we hoped the Tories would take this opportunity to repair some of the damage they have done.

"Instead, they have tried to distract residents from the further destruction proposed in this budget by announcing a council tax freeze which is nothing more than an election gimmick.

"One of the most shocking things about this budget is the contempt shown for voluntary and community groups, many of which will be forced to close or sacrifice some of the vital services they offer to residents."

What it all means for the town

RESIDENTS dreading an increase in their council tax bills may welcome the news that Harlow Council's share is to be frozen, but what other implications does the proposed budget have for the town?

Frontline services including Pets' Corner, The Playhouse the Museum of Harlow, the Leah Manning Centre, Parndon Wood Nature Reserve and paddling pools are safeguarded from cuts. Pets' Corner will benefit from a £7,000 renovation of the nearby public toilets, while £20,000 will cover the cost of extending the run of The Playhouse's annual pantomime.

But elsewhere, grants for voluntary and charitable groups will be slashed by £55,000 while £10,000 will be saved by cutting discretionary rate relief for organisations operating income-generating facilities. Community groups using the Aneurin Bevan Centre, in Garden Terrace Road, will now be expected to impose charges on their members to make the facility 'cost-neutral' to the authority.

How to keep your holiday money safe

Our Barclays Money Skills campaign to help Star readers make the most of their money looks at holidays and travel this week. CHRIS HAVERGAL finds out how you can get a bit of sun in the knowledge your money is safe ATTITUDES to holidays are ATHUDES to nondays are changing as a result of the recession, travel agents say, with travellers taking fewer trips, and being pickier about what they get for their money.

And more than ever, families are looking to make sure they know their cash is safe when they book.

The key thing is to make sure you book through a company which is 'bonded' by professional associations like ABTA, ATOL or AITO, according to Jill Adderley, owner of Plane Travel.

Bonding means holidaymakers will get their money back if their airline or travel company goes bust, and they will get help if they are stranded abroad too. Mrs Adderley said: "People are a lot keener to make sure we are bonded – which we are – and I don't blame them.

"The most important thing is that people enjoy their holidays and being financially secure is a big part of that."

passengers were stranded when Scottish airline Flyglobespan went bust, one of several carriers to go out of business in 2009.

And while many people might think the best travel deals are still to be found online, Mrs Adderley said the price gap had narrowed considerably in recent years, and that agents were able to offer more assistance if anything goes wrong. She said: "People value a good service and feel more secure and happy when they are in the hands of people who know what they are

House raid terror of elderly couple

AN elderly couple were tied By DAN PHILLIPS up and robbed in what police have described as a "vicious attack" in their own home on Sunday.

Three masked men broke into the detached house in Epping Road, Roydon, at about 4.40am and bound the terrified pensioners with cable ties.

They demanded the couple reveal where they kept their cash and jewellery, striking the 80-year-old man in the face when he refused to tell

The intruders then ransacked a number of rooms before escaping with jewellery and cash.

After they left the woman found some scissors and cut off the cable ties before raising the alarm.

The couple were both taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital for check ups before being allowed Detective Inspector Kevin Shannon, of Harlow police, said: "This was a vicious attack by a group of men who used unnecessary force to rob an elderly couple. They were both left extremely shaken.

"Fortunately this is a very rare offence in this area and we want to find the people involved. We do not yet know exactly what was taken because the house has been badly ransacked."

The three men were all aged between 20 and 30 and spoke in what have been described as London accents.

"We want to hear from anyone who saw anything suspicious in Epping Road, especially in the area between Reeves Lane and Old House Lane in the early hours of Sunday morning," said Mr Shannon. "We also want to hear from anyone who might have any suspicious callers asking questions in the area.'

MP visits centre helping teens to build a career in construction

Mr Rammell, who opened the Construction Training

Speaking after Friday's visit, Mr Rammell said: "With headteachers singing the praises of the Construction Training Partnership I am delighted that the apprenticeship provision is growing and celebrating its second successful year.

Poetry from the heart of Captain Jack

Nestling on a verdant carpet Sheltered from searching breeze Radiantly the primrose greets me As I walk among the trees.

Silence reigns within the woodland Save for birds that sweetly sing. All about the buds are opening Heralding the birth of Spring.

RINTED above are the opening verses of a poem written by the late Captain Jack Newman Gilbey entitled In Harlow Park.

It is dated April 10, 1944 and is taken from his collection Snowdrops at Dusk and Other Poems written during the dark years of the Second World War at his home in Hastingwood

The book was signed by the poet and given to local historian and former Harlow councillor Ron Bill in August 1981.

Mr Bill kindly lent it to Nostalgia after we published a story in our '25 years ago' column reporting the news that Captain Gilbey had left more than £1m in his estate.

The poet, art collector and charity worker, who lived in Kingsdon Lane, had passed away at the grand old age of 95. He was the grandson of the founder of Gilbey's distillers.

An indication of the high regard in which the Captain's work was held was the fact the book had a preface by the Archbishop of Westminster.

Judging by a note inside the cover, the book was originally given as a gift in Christmas of that year with the handwritten note: "May the beauty of these little poems be an inspiration to you! Indeed, his verse swings gracefully between the sentimental and the sublime – not least the touching A Father Mourns His Son which was written after his own son was killed in action in France.

The opening lines "Last week they sent me a word that he was dead. 'Twas just th'official note: how curt it read' captures the shock and loss felt by a parent told of the death of a child.

The poems with titles such as The Heroes of Arnhem evoke the spirit and sadness of the conflict.

And with our troops again engaged in combat abroad they sadly ring as true today as they did in 1944.

nostalgia update

THIS week we have received some more information about a photograph we printed some weeks ago of Cossor Social Club bowling league, taken back in the 1960s.

Reader Nick Taylor, of Fir Park, has writen in with a response to previous correspondent Rod Teese about the names of the people in the picture.

"Mr Teese mentioned a Mick Day, who I thought was Mark Tanner from the youth bowling club," writes Mr Taylor. "Well it so happens that Mick Day was a local milkman for many years but in more recent times he has been a postman in Epping where I see him at least once a week.

"I caught up with him. I had cut the article out of the paper in the hope of seeing him and he confirms that he is not in the picture.

"Of the others, Vaughn Clarke went on to be the manager of the bowl before it closed, but in later life suffered some ill health and passed away in his early fifties.

"Mark Tanner has spent some of his adult life living in America. His brother Dave, who still lives locally, attended the Harlow Youth Tenpin Bowling Club's 40th anniversary in April 2007, which the Star reported on in its sports column."

Charlie's bike ride raises £200.

schoolboy has been treated to a tour of the Prime Minister's home in Downing Street after raising more than £200,000 for the victims of the earthquake in Haiti.

Charlie Simpson wanted to do a sponsored cycle ride and set up an online fundraising page with a target of £500.

He hoped family and friends would support him but news of what he was doing quickly spread and soon thousands of people pledged cash donations. As a result he has now raised more than £200,000 for the charity Unicef, which has set up an emergency appeal to help

When news of his achievement reached Prime Minister Gordon Brown, he invited the youngster to Downing Street. "Charlie's dedication in raising money for the victims of the Haiti earthquake is truly inspirational and a shining example of the kind of friendship, goodness, and compassion so often shown by British people," said Mr Brown. Afterwards, Charlie said: "It was very fun going to the Prime Minister's house. I cycled my bike down Downing Street and even a bit inside. I liked talking to the boys about riding our bikes.' David Bull, Unicef's executive director for the UK, said: "Charlie is a real inspiration to us all and it was fantastic to see his tremendous efforts recognised by Downing Street.

TESTIMONIAL

"Thanks to Sapphire Church Langley, our property was sold within 2 weeks, and we saved plenty of money using their low 0.7% fee. Thank you!

Mr & Mrs Sheridan - Ridgeways, Church Langley.

LOW RATE ESTATE AGENCY WORTH TALKING ABOUT

(0.7%)

Due to the success of the Sapphire approach to selling homes in Harlow, we have decided to launch an office dedicated to Church Langley. At Sapphire we understand buyer behaviour and we know that buyers will tend to look online for properties, mainly on rightmove.co.uk as to looking in the high street, so rather than have expensive flashy premises; we invest our money in the marketing of your property online - that's what's most important. If you were looking to buy, where would you look? Yes, rightmove.co.uk!

Because our overheads are far lower than other high street estate agents, we can afford to offer lower commission fees (0.7%). As long as your property is on rightmove.co.uk your property will sell. So why pay more?

- No contracts to sign, No sole agency agreements, No tie ins.
- Only 0.7% to sell your property
- Unlimited marketing on Rightmove & other internet portals
- H.I.P.S. only £186 + VAT

Sapphire – The new hero for Church Langley, saving you both time & money!

For self employed the overall cost for comparison is 6.4% APR and for Right to Buy the overall cost comparison is 6.7% APR. The actual rate available will depend upon your circumstances. Ask for a personalized illustration.

Sapphire takes on new recruits to cope with growing business

HARLOW-based estate agents Sapphire Group UK Ltd enters the second year of business after a successful 2009 and has recruited extra staff to cope with the increase in business.

Sapphire Group's now ever-growing and popular 0.7 per cent estate agency fee is regarded as the best value for money around the area. Going into the new year Sapphire Group leads the way in modern property marketing.

Sapphire Group keep costs and overheads down by being away from the high street and are, therefore, able to pass on the savings to their customers.

Since the introduction of property sites via the internet there is no need for high street premises. With your home on the internet, your property can be viewed worldwide!

"We are the leaders," said Alex Kerr, codirector of Sapphire Group UK Ltd

"Eventually all agencies will need to adapt to compete with our lower fees." Sapphire Group has now opened Sapphire Church Langley. After a successful campaign tailored to the Harlow market, James Revland of Sapphire Group now wants to offer the same service dedicated to the people of Church Langley.

"The approach worked for Harlow so we feel other communities must be offered the same opportunity to save money," said James, who now heads Sapphire Church Langley.

"We are currently working on specialised services for the Harlow and Church Langley communities which will be revealed very soon.

TONIGHT>> Head to The Square this evening and enjoy a drop of mother's ruin with Gin Panic, cower at the might and bluster of Massive Face, get positive with The Magnets and lose yourself in the post-rock psychosis of Chigurh. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost a mere $4 (free to

FRIDAY>> It's time to dust off your mohair suit and polish up your winklepickers. For one night only The Square becomes The Flamingo as mod revival heroes The Lambrettas screech into town with giffer-punk mob Long Tall Shorty in tow. Best known for their chartopping cover of Poison Ivy and seminal debut album Beat Boys In The Jet Age, the Brighton band reformed last year following the untimely death of original frontman Jez Bird and are ready to flex some maximum r'n'b in his memory. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £7 (£6 members).

SATURDAY>> A return for promoters My Beautiful Agony who are back to terrorise the yoof with a medieval armoury's worth of ferocious metal. Tonight's line-up features Brighton-based death metal doommongers Plague Of Ashitaka, the interminably bleak Winter and glacial prog-metal noodlers No Consequence. Doors open at 8pm and tickets cost £7 (£6 members).

Friday night revels take breath away

PEVIEW

The Revellions & The Freaks & French Kissing The Square, Harlow

LET'S get metaphorical for a minute. Would you rather potter about on an electric trike or melt your trousers in a supercharged hot rod?

If you chose the trike, I hear there are still a few tickets available for next week's Brit Awards. If you opted for the latter, then chances are you were at The Square on what from this day forth shall be fondly remembered as Freakbeat Friday.

Boasting a line-up that surely had Wild Billy Childish excitably twirling his moustache in gleeful anticipation, this was a high-octane drag race of primal r'n'b-movie melodrama from start to finish.

Openers French Kissing again showed impeccable technique, locking lips with Link Wray and The Trashmen to birth the kind of crunching lo-fi surfrock the likes of contemporaries The Black Lips have reinvigorated so successfully.

Effortlessly melting winter's icy grip with their blissful, sun-burned debut single Oh Suzanne, the three-piece hurtled headlong through an impatient set of endless summer dreaming and are definitely ones to watch.

Up next were old hands The Freaks, who may well have been cryogenically frozen back in 1967 after supporting The Standells with strict instructions for their immediate thawing in the event of Snow Patrol selling five million albums worldwide

The electrifying antithesis of everything bland, boring and bloodless in music today, The Freaks strip rock'n'roll bare, squeeze a V8 under the bonnet and pump it full of adrenachrome – every two-and-a-bit minute race a deliciously dark thrill ride to the brink.

With the audience still panting for breath, headliners The Revellions wasted no time in hurling themselves into a farfisa-drenched groove of farout lysergic loveliness.

The snake-hipped Dubliners may have learnt their moves from The Doors, but so what? This was a brooding performance as lithe and serpentine as the Lizard King himself, never more than two heckles away from a punch-up or two bars from psych-rock nirvana.

Declare them plagiarists at your peril.

Chris Moss

DANCE>> The talented young pupils from the Jenny Myhill School of Dance & Performing Arts will be strutting their stuff on The Playhouse stage tonight (Thursday) as they begin a three-night residency at the theatre. Featuring showstopping routines in everything from classical ballet to modern jazz, the show promises to be a treat for all the family. Evening performances begin at 7.30pm with a Saturday matinee at 2.30pm. Tickets cost £12 (£10 children) from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC>> The world-renowned Alberni Quartet return to St John's Arts & Recreation Centre in Old Harlow on Saturday with the first of a series of concerts featuring Beethoven's string quartets. The recital begins at 8pm and tickets cost £15 for adults (£12 concessions) from (01279) 442447.

MUSIC>> Acclaimed jive and swing ensemble The Jive Aces, pictured above, return to The Playhouse on Sunday for another energetic concert featuring the songs of Bobby Darin, Louis Prima and Sammy Davis Jnr alongside some hotstepping tunes of their own. The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £12.50 (£11.50 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

ART>> Budding artists from the Serendipity Arts Group explore Harlow's heritage in a dazzling new exhibition of their work opening at 'The Gibberd Gallery in The Civic Centre on Saturday. Harlow's Heritage runs until February 20 and admission is free.

Christmas spirits return to lift the winter blues

CHRISTMAS may now be little more than a distant memory for most of us, but for those pining for a late sprinkling of seasonal cheer a Harlow theatre company might just have the tonic necessary to banish those winter blues.

While Charles Dickens' timeless morality tale A Christmas Carol could be considered a slightly odd choice for a show opening tonight (Thursday), Moot House Players have no such qualms.

Adapted and directed by MHP stalwart Bett Hewlett, the winter warmer will feature a huge cast, sumptuous Victorian dress and stunning special effects while the story itself remains faithful to the Dickens classic.

"I have tried very, very hard to be true to the original story so it has been a real challenge to make the language and dress as authentic as possible," said Bett.

"It's a wonderful family show and the fact so many members of my own family are involved makes it extra special for me," she said. "It's a timeless story that is sure to chase away the winter blues and bring some of that Christmas magic back at a time when people really need it."

● A Christmas Carol begins a three-night run at Moot Hall, The Stow, tonight (February 4). Performances begin at 8pm and tickets costing £8 (£6 concessions) are available by calling (01279) 639170.

Music lovers are given the choice of rock or opera

IF music truly is the food of love, then Harlow Playhouse has got Valentine's Day all wrapped up.

Hopeless romantics struggling to dream up the perfect gift for that special someone can choose between a thrilling tribute to the world's biggest rock band or a string-laden night of sumptuous opera.

Widely regarded as Europe's premier tribute to Irish legends U2, U2UK hit the Playhouse stage on Friday, February 12 at 8pm.

Featuring classic songs from the foursome's vast back catalogue including Sunday Bloody Sunday, Pride and With Or Without You performed with all the heart, passion, drive and energy of a thrusting young Bono Vox without the Jesus complex, U2UK's live performance will blow you away.

Then, on Valentine's Day itself, acclaimed production company Opera Box returns to The Playhouse at 7pm with captivating new show A Night of Romantic Opera.

With ravishing music from some of the world's most renowned composers including Puccini, Verdi, Bizet and Mozart, this one-off operatic extravaganza promises lovebirds looking for something a little more cerebral an enchanting evening of arias and ensembles accompanied by piano and performed by a carefully selected cast of established opera singers.

Tickets for U2UK are priced £15 each or two for £25, while couples can enjoy A Night of Romantic Opera for £20 (£14 for individuals). To book, contact the theatre's box office on (01279) 431945 or log on to the website at www.playhouseharlow.com.

WHEN Nelson Mandela walked free from Robben Island on February 11, 1990 after more than a quarter of a century of incarceration, he discovered a country divided by race.

His release lit the touch paper on civil unrest as he worked together with President de Klerk to end apartheid and begin the difficult healing process.

Clint Eastwood's majestic new film chronicles this volatile period in South Africa's history and the true story of President Mandela's dogged quest to reunite his fractured country.

President Mandela (Morgan Freeman) despairs at the divisions in his country, not least on the rugby field, as he discovers that only white South Africans cheer on the

With one year until his nation hosts the prestigious Rugby World Cup, Mandela attempts to heal the emotional rift and inspire captain Francois Pienaar (Matt Damon) and his men to victory, despite their underdog status.

Mandela's family and political allies, including his loyal aide Brenda Mazibuko (Adjoa Andoh), advise him against this course of action, believing that social concerns are much more pressing than an international sports tournament. The President believes that with the eyes of the world on his country, he can engineer lasting change and provide the children of South Africa with a glorious future. But first he must convince Pienaar and the players to follow his lead. Invictus elegantly sidesteps the pitfalls of the sports genre, adhering closely to the facts and thereby eschewing sentimentality. It celebrates the titanic efforts of Mandela and Pienaar on and off the pitch, relying on magnificent performances from the leads to embody these charismatic figures Freeman doesn't mimic the elderly statesman; he crafts his own interpretation of the President, full of gravitas and self-assurance even when his health is failing.

Damon bulks up with a convincing accent as the embattled captain, desperate to quell unrest within his own changing room.

Bone-crunching sequences on the rugby field are constructed with attention to detail and edited at a brisk pace to sustain dramatic momentum. These technically demanding scenes contrast with intimate exchanges between the President, his advisors and bodyguards that reveal the deep scars in the proud, beating heart of a nation.

Shot on location in Cape Town and Johannesburg, Invictus beautifully captures the earthy colours of the country and the indomitable spirit of its people.

EDGE OF DARKNESS>>

Homicide detective Thomas Craven (Mel Gibson) clashes with CIA operative Darius Jedburgh (Ray Winstone) as he tries to uncover the secret life of his murdered daughter, while exposing corruption extending to the uppermost echelons of power.

ASTRO BOY>> The iconic figure of Astro Boy takes flight in a new computer-animated adventure directed by David Bowers, with a storyline that puts a futuristic spin on the classic tale of Pinocchio. With characters voiced by Freddie Highmore, Nicolas Cage and Donald Sutherland to name but a few, Astro Boy has plenty of eye-popping thrills for younger viewers including a climactic showdown.

C'S COMPLICATED>> Meryl Streep stars as a divorcee who embarks on a passionate affair with her ex-husband (Alec Baldwin) in writer-director Nancy Meyers's romantic comedy. The sparkling onscreen chemistry between the characters, including a star turn from Steve Martin as a lovelorn architect, adds polish to the familiar material.

AVATAR (3D)>> Winner of two Golden Globes, James Cameron's special effects-laden blockbuster pushes the boundaries of big-screen technology. When warmonger Colonel Miles Quaritch (Stephen Lang) decides to attack an alien race, his methods change the face of warfare and the fate of a planet.

SHERLOCK HOLMES>> Guy Ritchie's reinvention of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's legendary sleuth stars Robert Downey Jr and Jude Law as Sherlock Holmes and his sidekick Dr John Watson on the trail of a killer who comes back from the dead.

ST TRINIANS 2: THE LEGEND OF FRITTON'S GOLD>> The naughty minxes from St Trinian's are back to their old tricks involving a preposterous treasure hunt around London in search of stolen 16thcentury booty.

ALVIN AND THE CHIPMUNKS: THE SQUEAKQUEL>> The diminutive trio meet their match in three feisty females who trill with attitude through Beyonce's Single Ladies (Put A Ring On It), Hot N Cold by Katy Perry, So What by Pink and Corinne Bailey Rae's Put Your Records On.

kids' club

FANTASTIC MR FOX>> Director Wes Anderson brings his offbeat and distinctly adult sensibilities to bear on Roald Dahl's classic children's story, with lead voices from George Clooney and Meryl Streep. The stop-motion animation is visually impressive but it's a film you admire and marvel at rather than unreservedly love.

UP (2D)>> Airborne adventure about a cranky old man who ties thousands of balloons to his home to fulfill his lifelong dream of seeing the wilds of South America and an excitable young boy who accompanies him as a stowaway.

NIGHT AT THE MUSUEM 2>> Ben Stiller and Ricky Gervais return in the sequel to the 2006 family bllockbuster, This time the story switches to the largest museum complex in the world where revived pharaoh Kahmunrah threatens to take over the world.

Disney spawns another classic

THE PRINCESS AND THE FROG certificate U 1h37m

DISNEY casts its first ever African-American princess in this enchanting reworking of the Grimm brothers' fairvtale, set in New Orleans around the time of the First World War.

Restaurant owner James (voiced by Terrence Howard) cooks the best gumbo in the city, while his seamstress wife Eudora (Oprah Winfrey) tends to their daughter Tiana (Anika Noni Rose).

When the old man goes off to war and never returns, Tiana is forced to make her own way in the world, dreaming of the day she might open her own restaurant and serve up her father's signature dish.

Those dreams are put on hold when Tiana is approached by a smooth-talking frog (Bruno Campos, who claims to be Prince Naveen of Malvonia). He asks for one kiss to break the spell that has been placed on him and she obliges, only to be transformed into a frog herself.

Trapped in their amphibious state and pursued by scheming voodoo man Dr Facilier (Keith David), Tiana and Naveen must track down queen of the bayou Mama Odie (Jenifer Lewis), aided by a music-loving alligator (Michael-Leon Wooley) and a crazy firefly (Jim Cummings)

Updated Hyundai is Santa-stic

Hvundai's Santa Fe is a balanced mix of creature comforts, refinement and cabin space. Fascia and the various ontrols and displays are well thought out while equipment make a mark with iPod and MP3 music player inputs, electric everything and climate control. IAN DOOLEY takes it for a test drive.

hatever the detractors say, there will always be a place in the market for family-size SUVs.

Some will convince you that the cars are old fashioned, unwieldy and lacking a purpose. What the critics fail to mention is that the bad SUVs were always like that and never deserved to succeed. Good ones will always find a home - like Hyundai's Santa Fe. While European car makers might shout the loudest, Hyundai just gets on with the job in hand. Modest would be a fitting description for its Santa Fe. Although refreshed for 2010, this generation of Santa Fe has since launch, cleverly balanced pleasing looks with enough ability to match its attentionseeking rivals.

On the outside the updates are subtle - the car's conservative. smooth lines have been retained. You won't see much in the way of brash chrome trim or fussy details here. What you do get is a mid-size 4x4 that hides its size well with a combination of pleasing looks and a balanced sense of proportion.

The same is true on the inside; anyone seeking a glitzy cabin full of gimmicks will be sorely disappointed. Mindful that some of these cars actually get used properly, Hyundai has opted for a more practical and durable approach than some rivals. Far from being plain, however, the Santa Fe's cabin is full of high quality materials, the seats are comfortable – especially in leather trim – while the fascia and the various controls and displays are well thought out. Equipment levels are also good: the Premium-spec model boasts the aforementioned leather seats, iPod and MP3 music player inputs, electric everything, climate control and a plenty of cabin storage for phones, drinks, maps and the like.

You can also specify a seven-seat option which goes a long way to cementing the Santa Fe's role as a genuine family-orientated vehicle.

In five-seat trim the car offers an impressive amount of luggage space, while the seven-seat option adds more versatility if you regularly carry a lot of people.

And it's this underlying versatility that's most obvious in the way the Santa Fe drives. For most people buying SUVs the default fuel has become diesel, and the Santa Fe's new engine is an impressive and rounded performer. Refined, punchy, quiet when it needs to be and flexible when you want it to be, the 2.2-litre unit offers an excellent blend of performance. economy plus a sensible CO2

With its 194bhp and 311 lb/ft torque (322 in conjunction with an auto gearbox), the engine allows for effortless cruising and towing plus more than enough grunt to easily embarrass other commuters on the way to work. There is a choice between pure front-wheel drive, an automatically switching allwheel drive function and the ability to lock the vehicle in four-wheel drive when the going gets really tough. There are no confusing levers to contend with, just a handily placed rotary dial down by the gear lever or the gear selector if you opt for the slick six-speed auto unit.

At the end of the day, the Santa Fe delivers a balanced mix of creature comforts, refinement and cabin space.

Factor in a genuinely impressive diesel engine, the smooth, optional auto gearbox and onroad performance to rival any similarly priced large estate car plus Hyundai's class-busting five-year warranty and you don't need to ask why the Santa Fe is a

Hawks have last laugh on Jokers

Harlow Hawks 63, Ware 62 Herts County Basketball League, division one

IT was third time lucky as Harlow Hawks came from behind to beat Ware Jokers by a point at the Sportcentre.
Hawks looked to be slipping to their third consecutive defeat against Jokers in four weeks as they trailed 51-44 with a quarter of Friday's match left.

However, Rimas Norkeliunas came to the fore, scoring 12 points as Hawks won the fourth quarter by 19 points to 11 to win the match.

Earlier, Jokers established a rapid 10-point lead in the first quarter.

It took the Hawks five minutes to score through a good post move from Mark Haddow in his first game back after missing two matches with a knee injury.

Although Hawks struggled to find their rhythm in attack they only trailed 16-12 going into the second quarter.

This saw Dave Spashett score seven points for the Hawks.

However, the visitors responded and increased their lead to 35-26 at the halfway stage. Hawks started the third quarter well. Haddow got six quick points and with Mike Freeman also scoring, the Jokers' lead was cut.

Jokers then turned to their big men, who used their size advantage for easy scores.

Tensions ran high from both sides when Hawks' Russ Allan was fouled and there were words exchanged between a few players.

After this, Freeman picked up a few scores for the home side, before both teams traded baskets.

The hosts went into the final quarter seven points behind.

A supreme effort on defence cou-pled with speed in attack allowed the Hawks to fight back.
Norkeliunas's big-scoring spree, coupled with Shab Niaz's three-pointer saw Hawks go three points ahead with a minute remaining.

This was reduced to a point with 10 seconds left, but Harlow saw the game out to record a notable win.

Hawks are now fifth in the eight-team division.

HARLOW HAWKS: Norkeliunas (20 pts), Freeman (11), Haddow (11), S. Niaz (9), Spashett (7), Jones (3), Burgess (2), Allan, Z. Niaz, Hinds.

Darts league top two break clear

THERE was no change in the Harlow & District Premier Darts League as both the top two won. White Admiral and Servo Link sealed 5-3 victories.

Admiral came back from 3-1 down to win 5-3 against thirdplaced Young Pretenders.

There were 180s from Dicky Smith and Alex Hogg for Pretenders. Mal Copas responded for Admiral.

Servo beat Tye Green Whites by the same score.

Paul Wilsher (Servo) notched a 114 outshot.

Father and son team, Ron and Damian Green, both hit 180s for Moot House Arrows in their 5-3 win over Stow Snooker.

Damian tops the 180 league with United Glass and Crusader drew 4-4, as did Harlow Hawks and Moot House.

Christopher Mooney notched his first 180 for Hawks.

Rams boss eyes top-half finish called on his Harlow side to extend their thrilling run and finish in the top half of the table.

The Rams - who were second from bottom seven weeks ago - have now won four consecutive games after a committed display sealed a comfortable home victory over Norwich five days ago.

Rams' scrum-half and director of rugby Harron said: "Peter Claridge [for-wards coach] and I asked for increased commitment.

"We have got that over the last four or five weeks in training and they are buying into it.

"The table is quite tight now. We can go for a top half spot and it's up to the players

Harron has Harlow 22, Norwich 8 RFU London & SE, division two north east whether they want to relax or keep going."

Harlow's next game is at Ipswich in nine days but the Rams are likely to be without fly-half Michael Dobson and number eight Kane Claridge.

Dobson sustained a broken nose, while Claridge injured a knee against Norwich. Harron said: "Michael's swelling has to go down before he can have any treat-

"It's a pity as he was running into form and I think Kane will miss out too."

The Rams went ahead through an 11th-minute Dobson penalty before Norwich slotted one on 21 minutes to make it 3-3.

Harlow regained the lead with another Dobson penalty. The Norfolk side bounced back with an unconverted try from a forwards move stemming from a line-out.

After Claridge went off on 37 minutes, sub Terry Blackwell came into the second row and Paul Eynon went to number eight.

There was still time for Dobson to slot his third penalty, putting the hosts 9-8 ahead.

The second half saw both sides go down to 14 on two occasions.

Rams lock Kerry Palmer ruck offence) went off on 45 minutes, while substitute prop Matt Branch (high tackle) was cautioned on 70 minutes.

Norwich's yellow cards came on 47 and 63 minutes. Dobson slotted a 50th-minute penalty before the Rams took charge in the last

On 62 minutes, Harron started a three-man move which culminated in Eynon feeding Dobson to crash over for an unconverted try.

Shortly after, Dobson sustained his injury in a tackle.

The scoring was wrapped up on 71 minutes. Eynon intercepted a Norwich pass before finding winger Will Grimley who dashed over for a try in the corner.

Harron added: defence was very good and James McFerran and Luke Bowering did well in the centres but it was disappointing we did not score from two other opportunities.

HARLOW: Brown, Mackie, L. Bowering, McFerran, Grimley, Dobson (Vanbeck 70), Harron, Williams (Branch 57), Romaine (C), Prindiville, Eynon, Palmer, Roberts, M. Bowering, Claridge (Blackwell 37).

East Men's Hockey League, div four south east

IT was one of those days when nothing went right as a depleted Harlow team lost at Upminster.

Harlow, missing regular first team players Steve Jones, Chris Shearman-Slack and Rob Chandler, were delayed by traffic.

Upminster put back the start time by 25 minutes, but around half the Harlow team had no time to EAST MEN'S HOCKEY LEAGUE up when they eventually arrived. The hosts started well in the match and controlled possession, while pre-venting while Harlow from finding their passing game.

When the visitors had the ball it was generally wasted by poor passing in midfield.

Despite not threatening the home side's goal Harlow looked solid in defence.

The visitors were finally beaten after a loose ball found its way through the Harlow defence and an Upminster forward finished well to put his side 1-0 ahead.

Harlow went down to 10 before half-time when Adam Ottley was given a yellow card for dissent.

for dissent.

Joe Symonds' men improved after the break but just as they gained a foothold in the match a controversial penalty corner was awarded to the hosts and this was converted.

Harlow continued to push forward but were unable to make a breakthrough.

 HARLOW Ladies' Essex Women's League premier division home match against Redbridge & Ilford was postponed.

Ricketts in top form at South England Champs

RICK Ricketts produced an excellent performance in the South of England Cross Country Championships at Parliament Hill on Hampstead Heath. He joined five other Harlow Running Club members in the race, held over a very testing course of 15km (9.3 miles) for men and 8km

(5 miles) for women.

Runners were ankle-deep in sticky, energy-sapping mud, with the occasional slippery hard frosty section.

Ricketts clocked 70 minutes and 59 seconds for 476th place out of 806 runners.

He was closely followed by Jamie Jephcott

71:38 for 500th place and David Ayling in 71:49 for 504th place. John Tennant recorded 79:04 for 647th place and Sean Flynn finished in 84:56 for 724th spot. In the senior women's race, Harlow's Katie Herrington finished in a superb time of 41:41 for 217th place out of 357 runners.

Consortium close to takeover at Harlow Town FC

BUSINESSMAN John Barnett - leading the consortium trying to take over at cash-strapped Harlow Town - is confident that a deal can be thrashed out within the next week.

Barnett and ex-Hawks boss Tommy Cunningham are hoping to complete legal issues and paperwork as soon as possible.

Is is thought that their take over has been delayed due to current chief executive Carol Bothwell holding out for a fee for her shares (44 per cent).

The consortium is expected to assume control of 90 per cent of former HTFC chairman Jeff Bothwell's shares in the Ryman League division one north club. Mr Bothwell owns 56 per cent of the Barrows Farm club's

The consortium has agreed to take on the club's debts, which

Mr Bothwell believes are more likely to be £120,000 rather than the disputed CVA (Company Voluntary Agreement) agreed figure of £189,000.

Speaking yesterday (Wednesday), Barnett said: "It should be finalised within the next week. There is paperwork that needs to be sorted out."

Barnett and ex-QPR defender Cunningham co-own Platinum Sports Management which advises professional sports people.

The pair first linked up in the late 1990s when Cunningham was assistant manager at Football League Two club Barnet and Barnett was a director at Underhill.

Barnett, who was owner of South Midlands League side Ruislip Manor FC for around 20 years from the 1980s, added: for comment.

"It's exciting and a very big challenge."

If the deal does go ahead, it will bring to an end months of dispute between Mr and Mrs Bothwell over the club's ownership.

Mr Bothwell, who will retain 10 per cent of the shares, now lives in Belfast.

The club's ownership has been at the heart of the Bothwells' messy divorce battle.

"I have signed the paperwork for the stock transfer to the partnership and it has been sent," Mr Bothwell said.

"I have an agreement with Tommy. I want to honour that and want to give my shares free and am urging Carol to agree to that."
